PROJECTS

TrumpTweet

- shows tweets that mention one of two candidates depending on the selection of the user

A web app that pulls from the Twitter API using Angular, jQuery, Bootstrap, and Angular routing to add the ability to provide deep links.

Breakout Game

- remake of a classic computer game the user can play with either the keyboard or mouse

A simple breakout game made with Canvas and Javascript. Some of difficulties included the movement of the ball, collision detection, and increasing the difficulty at a reasonable pace.

Stock App

- displays stock ticker info based on a search by the user

Uses the Yahoo Finance API to produce information about the searched stock. Displays via Angular and uses TypeAhead to populate search suggestions.
